MARQUARD WINS A GAME Baseball Standing

Shows a Return to Form in Defeating the Cardinals.

GIANTS HOLD THEIR LEAD

Becker's Home Run Keeps His Team Just a Nod Ahead of the Visitors.

Rube Marquard finally succeeded in setting into the victory column at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon. The St. Louis Cardinals, who are here to make their farewell bow of the season, provided the New York southpaw with a medium for bettering his pitching record, which has suffered the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune for just about two months. He did not win with the ease and grace which characterized some of his early spring encounters, for "Slim" Sallee, a well known New York hoodoo, was his opponent, but the spirit was there, and the Giants maintained their lead over the Cubs, who triumphed against Boston. The score was 4 to 3.

By bunching long hits on the thin St. Louis twirler, not the least of which were a rollicking triple by Murray and a home run into J. Franklin Baker's preserves by Beals Becker, the champions were able to keep just a nod ahead of the visitors.

There was much interest attached to the game because of the appearance of Marquard, who has not won since New York made its great stand in Pittsburgh last month. The Rube gave every indication of rounding into form, although he has not reached the top notch as yet. The nine hits which the Cardinals collected off his delivery revealed the fact that he needs to furbish up his wares a little more. His curves were breaking well enough to strike out seven batsmen Hauser familing three times, but ever Pitches Red Sox to Another and anon, the visitors landed right lustily n his choicest assortments with disastrous results.

When Miller Huggins hit the first ball pitched to left field for three bases the 7,000-odd "fans" in the stands expected Marquard to show his temperament, but e coolly settled to his task and refused to be routed. With one out in the eighth, the Cardinals filled the bases, but Rube retired the side without a run being inning. Gardner started with a single scored. When the first two men got on in the eighth it took an error by Shafer let a run cross the plate.

Leach Cross, the lightweight of the East Side, was disqualified by Dan Tone, the referee, for fouling Jimmie Duffy, of Buffalo, by using the kidney punch in the third round of a ten-round bout at che St. Nicholas Athletic Club last night Cross worked into a half clinch after taking a few light jabs on the mouth, and with his right hand free brought the heel of his glove down on Duffy's kidneys with a resounding whack.

Tone at once warned him not to repeat this punch, and the bout proceeded Cross once more worked in close, and again smashed the Bison City man with the butt of his hand. The referee then disqualified Cross and ordered him out of Cross rushed over to where Frank S.

O'Neill, a member of the State Athletic Commission, sat to make a protest, but Mr. O'Neill volunteered no opinion. "I'm not the referee," was his laconic reply. Naturally the decision was not popula with some of those who came to witness They hooted a little, but the fair minded men cheered Tone and hooted the disqualified boxer. The share of the purse which was guaranteed to Cross will be held up on order of Commissioner O'Neill.

On points Duffy had somewhat the better of the boxing. He is a long, narrow boy, with ungainly arms, that he poked into his opponent's face. The blows did not burt much, but they scored points. He was shifty on his skinny, weak-looking legs, and at times he had Cross missing like a longshoreman. He was a most unpromising appearing boy, but he could box, and box cleverly.

Cross was by all means the stronger of the pair, and he handled Duffy in the clinches with ease.

Although outpointed, Willie Beecher gave Jack Britton a hard battle all the way and made a good impression. Cross boxed a draw with Johnny Marto The boxing commission will investigate the Joe Jeannette-Tony Ross bout at a special meeting this afternoon.

ATTELL MAY CATCH A TARTAR Harry Thomas Likely to Keep Him Busy When They Cross Gloves.

Unless good judges of boxing who have looked Harry Thomas over are much with a surprise when he crawls through the ropes at Madison Square Garden on Friday night. Down at Felix Bend. Staten Island, where the little Briton is training under the watchful eye of Jimmy Johnson, no doubt exists as to his skill twenty years old, first sprang into promi nence by winning the Olympic bantamweight championship of England. Closely following that he came to this country. and in his first professional fight faced the then sensational Pal Moore, of Philabefore the second game in New York on delphia. He followed this with a contest Monday. The fine must be paid before against "Knockout" Brown, and in both encounters Thomas held his own. Going back to England. Thomas engaged in fifto-day that the manager will start a teen fights, four of which extended over the twenty-round route. He was the win-League to-night looking for catchers, out- ner in all these bouts. Over there Thomas is regarded as almost the equal of the famous Jem Driscoll.

Attell, whose one ambition is to regain the featherweight championship from Johnny Kilbane, has gone about his work along different lines than in the past. and this will give him a chance to train down and still keep his strength. For years he was fighting around 122 pounds to the control of the Hammer Providence Pitchers and this will give him a chance to train A clean sweep of the four-game series or less, and in staying at that low notch Time, 2:16%, 2:16%.

Newark registered sixteen hits, while Providence got twelve. The Indians drove Sline from the mound in the first frame by scoring five runs and got to Bill Balley for five more tallies in the seventh and eighth. Prince Gaskell weakened in the second inning, when six hits netted four runs. He was invincible after that
